

Abstract

The master's thesis is focused on the analysis of the conditions for use of particular modes of public tenders under the Act no. 137/2006 Coll., on Public Contracts, as amended. The main part of the thesis covers the negotiated procedure without prior notice, as the least transparent and yet frequently used type of award procedures. However, principal characteristics of all other types of award procedures are also mentioned. To provide a complete and sufficiently detailed analysis and comparison of particular types of award procedures, this thesis refers not only to doctrinal literature, but also to case law of the Office for the Protection of Competition, the Regional Court in Brno, the Supreme Administrative Court and also European case law. The thesis also includes analysis of selected provisions of Act no. 55/2012 Coll., effective as of 1 April 2012, significantly amending the Act on Public Contracts.